The Daffodils

William Wordsworth

Date: _____

I wandered lonely

as a cloud

Date: _____

That floats on high

o'er vales and hills,

Date: _____

When all at once I saw a crowd,

Date: _____

A host, of golden

daffodils;

Date: _____

Beside the lake,

beneath the trees,

Date: _____

Fluttering and dancing in the

Date: _____

breeze.

Continuous as the

Date: _____

stars that shine

And twinkle on the

Date: _____

milky way,

They stretched in

Date: _____

never-ending line

Along the margin

Date: _____

of a boy:

Ten thousand saw I

Date: _____

at a glance,

Tossing their heads

Date: _____

in sprightly dance.

The waves beside

Date: _____

them danced;

but they

Date: _____

Outdid the

sparkling waves

Date: _____

in glee:

A poet could not

Date: _____

but be gay,

In such a jocund

Date: _____

company:

I gazed - and

Date: _____

gazed - out little thought

Date: _____

What wealth the show to me had

Date: _____

brought:

For off, when on

Date: _____

my couch I lie

In vacant or in

Date: _____

pensive mood,

They flash upon

Date: _____

that inward eye

Which is the bliss

Date: _____

of solitude;

And then my heart

Date: _____

with pleasure fills,

And dances with

Date: _____

the daffodils.
